Dear Ms. Kennard:

I am replying to your letter to the Director of Central Intelligence of 18 June 1981.

We have a fairly substantial program underway in intelligence analysis training including the application of quantitative analytical techniques. Although we handle this training internally rather than through outside contractors, we are always interested in learning of any new techniques for improving the quality of our programs. Rather than meet on 9 July, I suggest you send us samples of the tools and exercises to which you refer. We can then determine if further discussion would be of value.

Please forward any items to:

Director of Training and Education
ATTN: Chief, Intelligence Training
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, DC 20505

Sincerely,

[Redacted Signature]

Director
